

Fraud Phishing

Take care when online

- ◆ Online scams are on the rise. Watch out for bogus emails and websites that “phish” for your account information.
- ◆ Information that is phished includes:
 - ◆ Credit Card Numbers
 - ◆ Social Security numbers
 - ◆ Deposit account numbers
 - ◆ User names and passwords

Be wary of any email that:

- Tells you there is a problem with your account.
- Directs you to website where you are asked to provide sensitive information.
- Does not include a phone number you recognize to be genuine.

Report Fraud ASAP

If you think you have been phished, act quickly to:

Contact your financial institution and/or credit card company to alert them to potential fraud.

Contact the three major credit bureaus to request that a fraud alert be placed on your credit report.

The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) also investigates consumer fraud through the Bureau of Consumer Protection. You can forward unsolicited commercial email(spam), including phishing messages, directly to the FTC at spam@uce.gov.
